I have a link that I'd like to change its URL whenever a different value is entered into a form. For example, if a first-name is entered, then a hyperlink should link to a new URL of ../edit/first-name. I have a title="first-name" in my form and have also tried using a hidden input field with the value of the current name and used this as the value for the link. For some reason nothing is ever submitted from the first-name form. Any idea what I should do? A: Unless you want the state to actually change in the server, your code needs to be client side
